The Elections System of the Virgin Islands is grateful for the support of the voting public throughout our 60 years. Transparency in our operations is important to us and to the voters whom we serve. Board members, staff, and Elections Officials are well trained and always adhere to four established steps of public accountability during an election cycle: verify the voter list, verify who did vote, ensure accurate counting of the vote, and remain vigilant that there is a fail-proof chain of custody for every vote cast," concluded Supervisor Caroline F. Fawkes.

"Thriving with Integrity, Elections System Celebrates Sixty!"
